DividendFlow.pk × Partner Broker

Confidential business proposal · Digital introducer partnership

You pay almost nothing · You keep the clients

For your brokerage

Near-zero cost

- No desk / branch to open for DividendFlow
- No upfront licence fee paid by you for this channel
- No fixed monthly retainer required to start
- You keep the client, platform, custody, and majority of brokerage
- Pay introducer share only on attributed referred activity
- Extra retail flow with almost no incremental overhead

For DividendFlow.pk

Skin in the game

- We invest in content, SEO, product, and ads
- Our revenue is tied to your trading activity
- We are motivated to send active, educated investors — not dead leads
- Brand cast + dividend tools already built to convert
- We succeed only if your book grows — aligned incentives

1 · The offer in one glance

Low commitment for you. High motivation from us.

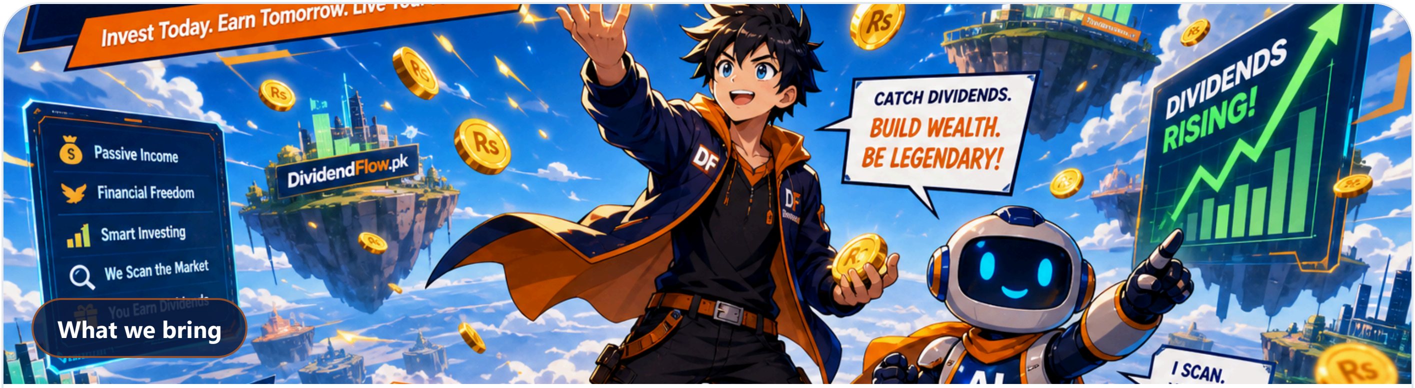
introducer share only when referred clients trade

You own clients

accounts stay on your licence & platform

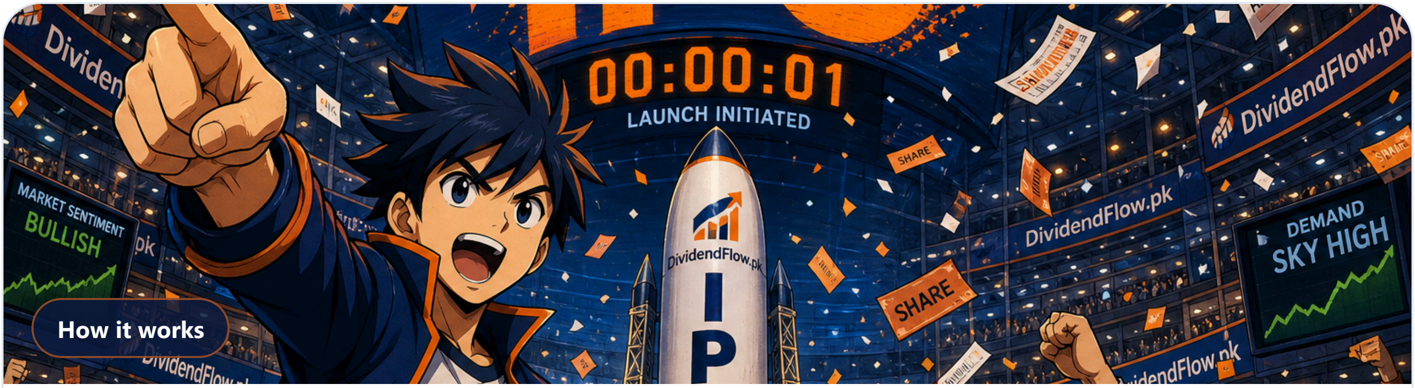
> Broker-friendly framing: you are not buying marketing. You are opening a performance channel where DividendFlow does the hunting — and only gets paid when your book earns.



2 · What DividendFlow brings to your desk

Warm dividend retail — already in a buying mindset.

- dividendflow.pk — dividend calendar, education, AI market buddy, PSX-focused content
- Dividend Challengers brand — recognisable cast that converts younger & retail Pakistan investors
- Tracked deep links into your online / Sahulat / CRF account opening
- Ongoing nurture — content that keeps users thinking about PSX and dividends
- Compliance posture — we do not take client funds, do not execute trades, do not claim to be a broker



3 · Simple operating model

Your systems. Your licence. Our funnel.

1. We place a tracked “Open account with [Your Broker]” CTA on DividendFlow.
2. Prospect completes KYC on your platform.
3. Client trades PSX through you.
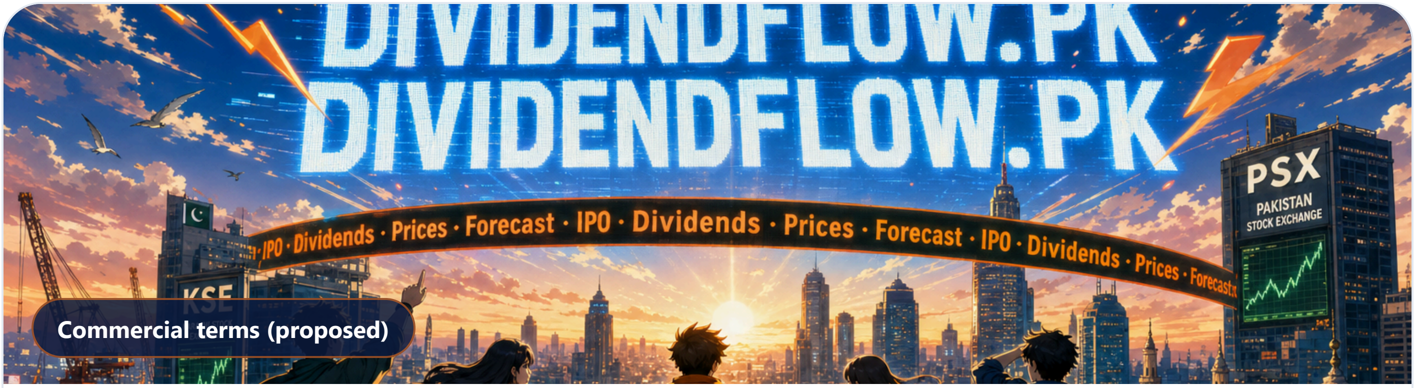
4. You remit an agreed introducer share on attributed brokerage — typically monthly.
5. We reinvest our share into more content and acquisition for the same channel.

You do	We do
Licence, KYC, custody, trading, compliance	Audience, education, conversion, tracking
Set retail commission & product access	Drive attributed opens + first trades
Pay share only on referred activity	Fund content / SEO / product to grow the pipe



4 · Proposed commercial terms

Designed so saying yes is cheap — and upside is yours.

Term	Proposal
Setup fee to broker	None
Monthly retainer	None (unless you want paid campaigns later)
Desk / CFC requirement	None — fully digital introducer
Client ownership	100% your clients on your TREC / platform
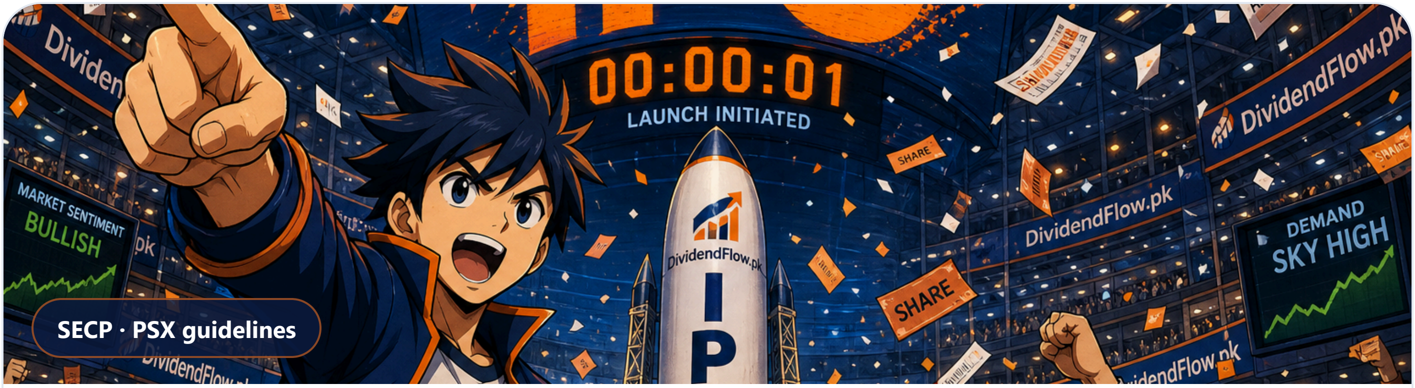
Introducer share	Negotiated % of brokerage on attributed referred trades (we propose a fair split that leaves you majority economics)
Payment	Monthly, against referral report / UIN code
Exclusivity	Open to discuss exclusive category or city for stronger push
Term	90-day pilot → renew if KPIs hit

Why you'll like the split: industry brokerage is already competitive. We are not asking you to cut client rates for us — only to share a portion of new attributed brokerage that would not exist without this channel.



5 · SECP & PSX guidelines for this setup

There is no separate "affiliate broker" licence — we operate under your licence, the clean way.

Framework	What it means for this partnership
SECP — Securities Brokers licensing	Only a PSX TREC holder licensed by SECP may offer brokerage to the public under the Securities Act, 2015 and the Securities Brokers (Licensing and Operations) Regulations, 2016. DividendFlow does not apply for its own broker licence in this model — clients open and trade under your SECP licence. SECP Brokers & Agents
Old "agent" regime	Standalone agent registration under the former Brokers and Agents Registration Rules, 2001 was repealed (referenced in the PSX Rule Book). There is no modern SECP form titled "affiliate broker." Affiliates / introducers work commercially under a licensed securities broker.
Path we propose — digital introducer (no desk)	Marketing / education / referral into your online account-opening flow. No trading by DividendFlow; account opening only with your check, control, and approval. Aligns with PSX practice that sales/marketing activity may occur without opening a Center, subject to broker training and control (see Ch. 22A context in the PSX Rule Book).
Optional Path B — PSX Chapter 22A Center	If a physical Account Facilitation / Customer Help Center is ever needed, the securities broker intimates PSX under Chapter 22A: undertaking (Annexure-A), staff list, and agreement with any Designated Entity spelling out roles and non-permissible activities. PSX CFC process · PSX Rule Book (Ch. 22A)

Chapter 22A red lines (if a Center is used later)

- Center used only as Account Facilitation / Help Center
- No trading or investment recommendation / advisory at the Center

- No trading terminal at the Center
- No cash dealing with customers at the Center
- Broker displays Center details on its website; trains Designated Employees; remains liable for acts of employees / Designated Employees
- CRF / Sahulat forms, Risk Disclosure, tariff, and investor awareness materials only via broker process

Setup checklist under your licence (our Path A)

Step	Owner
Valid SECP securities broker licence + PSX TREC (you)	Partner broker
Written introducer / referral agreement (roles, split, prohibited acts)	Both
Referral / UIN attribution + account-opening deep link	Partner broker
Product / KYC–AML briefing for DividendFlow marketers	Partner broker
Site disclaimer: DividendFlow is not a licensed broker	DividendFlow
All KYC, funds, custody, execution on broker systems only	Partner broker
Compliance review of marketing claims before go-live	Both
Optional: Ch. 22A CFC filing with PSX — not required for no-desk digital model	Partner broker

Bottom line for your compliance team: you stay the only licensed broker in the relationship. DividendFlow is a digital introducer / education channel under your commercial control — not a second broker, not a Ch. 22A Center (unless you later choose that route), and not a cash/custody touchpoint. Separate SECP Securities Advisor licensing applies only if someone gives paid investment advice as a business; our default is education + referral, not advisory. SECP Advisors

6 · Low risk for your compliance team

Clear boundaries protect your licence.

- DividendFlow will not collect client funds or hold securities
- DividendFlow will not execute or clear trades
- All account opening happens under your SECP / PSX processes
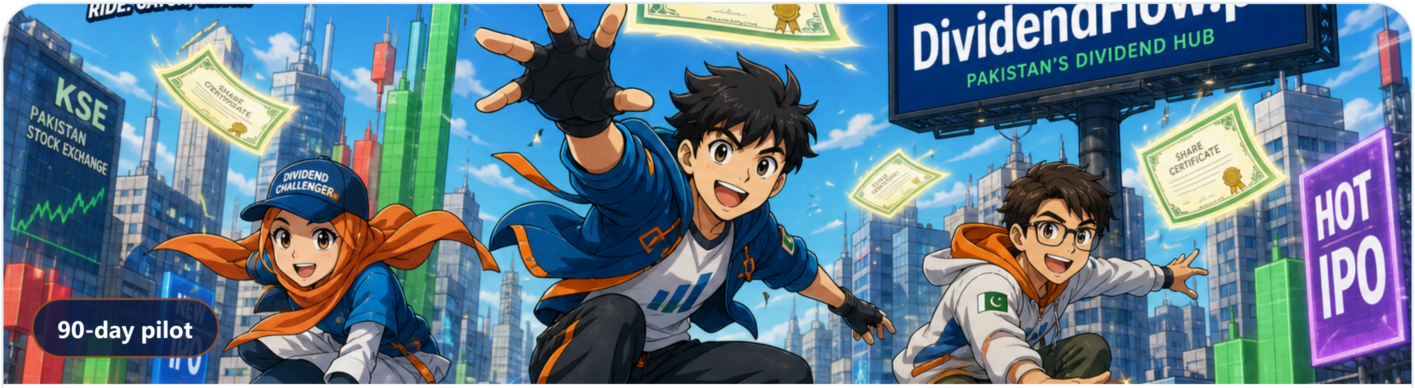
- Site disclaimer states we are an education / tools brand, not a broker
- Marketing claims reviewed with your BD / compliance before go-live
- No Chapter 22A Center unless you expressly request one later

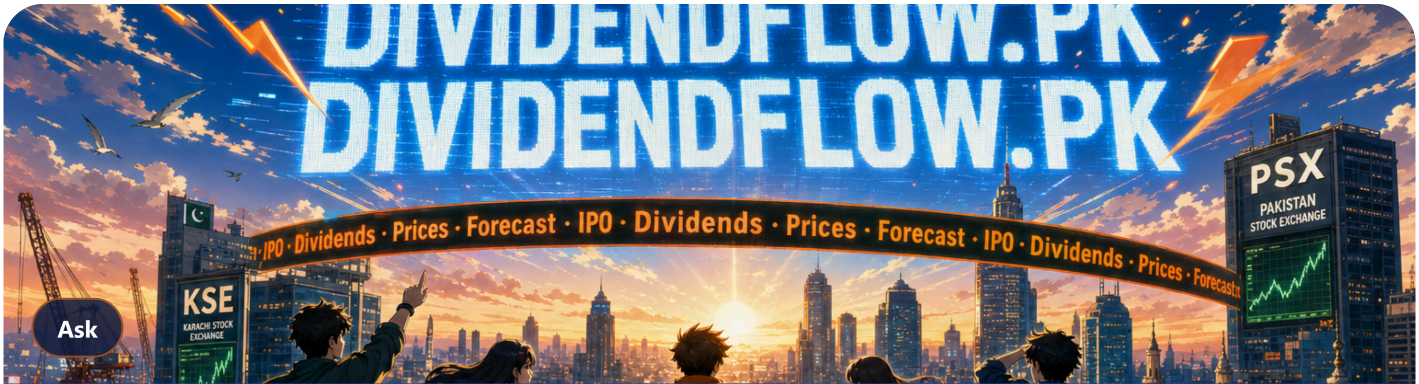


7 · 90-day pilot plan

Prove flow before any long commitment.

Phase	What happens
Days 1–14	Agreement, referral code, deep link, disclaimer, compliance brief, SECP/PSX boundary memo
Days 15–45	CTA live on DividendFlow + content push featuring your brand
Days 46–90	Optimize conversion; monthly report; decide renew / expand

Pilot success signals: attributed account opens, first trades, clean monthly reconciliation — grow the channel together if numbers work for both sides.



8 · The ask

A yes that costs you almost nothing to test.

1. Approve DividendFlow as a digital introducer / affiliate (no desk).
2. Issue a referral / UIN tracking code and account-opening deep link.
3. Agree a fair introducer share on attributed brokerage only.
4. Run a 90-day pilot with monthly reporting.

You gain incremental clients and brokerage with near-zero fixed cost. We gain a serious partner to monetise the Dividend Challengers audience — so we will work harder than a passive lead seller.
